FOREWORD

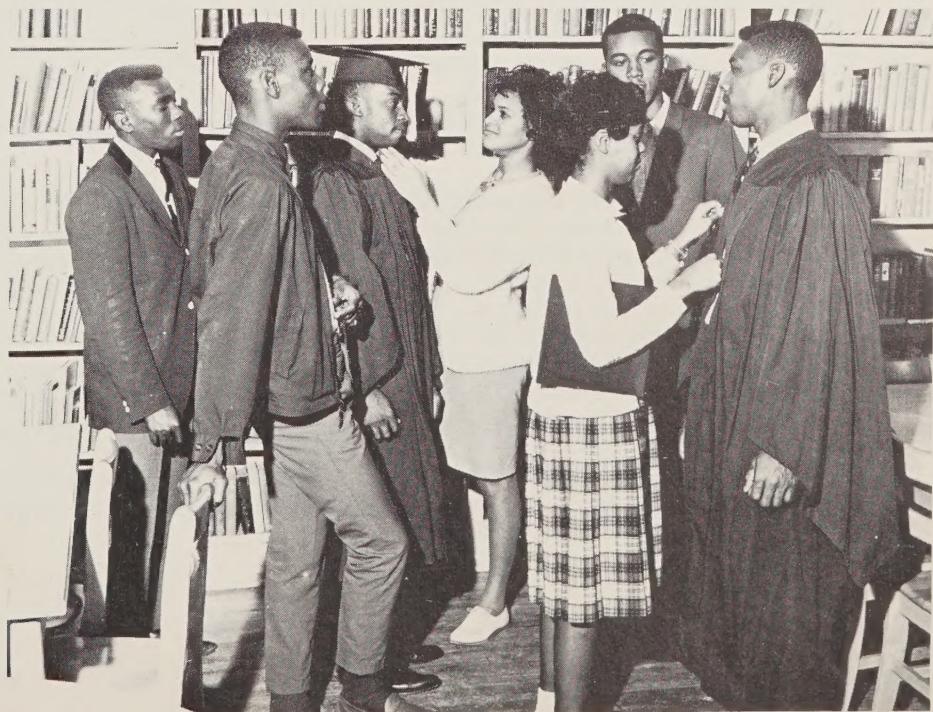

Fundamental to the development of self is culture. It is not so important to know everything as to know the exact value of things and to appreciate what we learn. The value of culture depends upon its application. Its application lies in knowledge, and knowledge must be experienced.

We will continually hold the school year 1964-65 a treasured memory. It will be recalled as the year we realized that we had been exposed to culture and knowledge and that CULTURE IS FOR SERVICE: KNOWLEDGE IS FOR POWER.

In the pages of this edition, we want you to see and know whose brain, vision, wisdom and efforts have brought us to this point. Similarly, we want you to know some of the friends and students who have helped bring fame and glory to DuBois' name and those whose accomplishments and honors make up the spirit and character of the school.

*Culture
Is for Service;
Knowledge
Is for Power.*

Dedication

MRS. DORIS A. BEST

Without flourish, for that is not her way, but in the simple sincerity that is her forte, we, the senior class of 1965, dedicate this edition of THE LION to MRS. DORIS A. BEST.

On every school faculty there are some faculty members who strengthen and inspire by their courage, integrity, patient kindness, and competence.

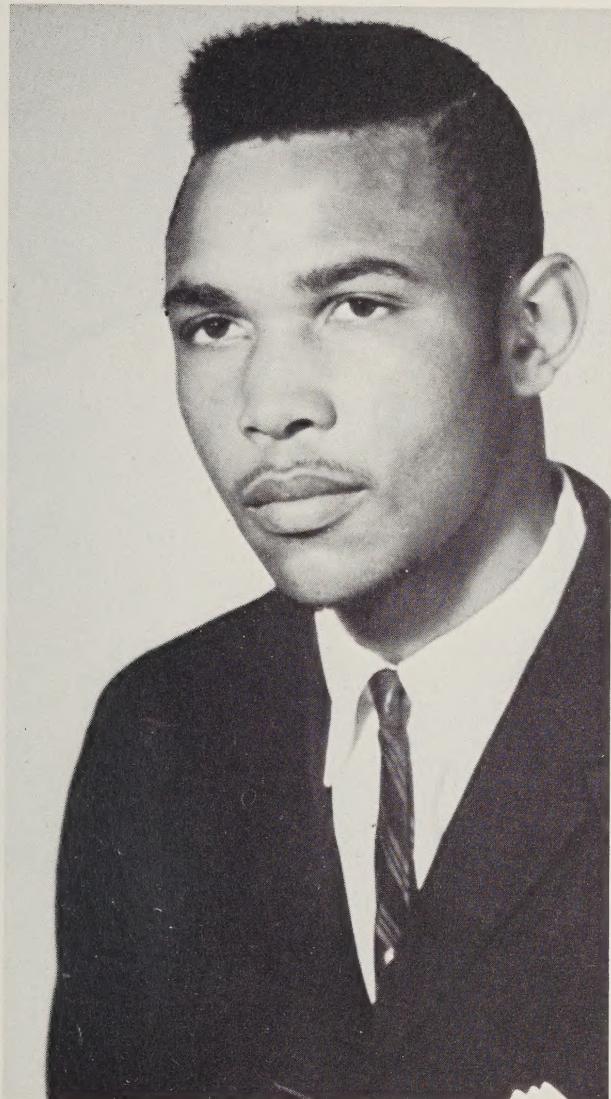

Mrs. Best received her Bachelor of Science degree from North Carolina College at Durham and her Master of Arts degree from Columbia University.

Under the leadership and guidance of Mrs. Best, this community and the surrounding areas have made progress in better homemaking. She organized groups of adults and instructed them in the art of sewing and saving. Her supervision encouraged greater interest in various comforts of living and home beautification. Visible improvements resulting from her teaching and demonstrations reflect the value and benefit of her efforts.

She has also been instrumental in planning and developing a program for food preservation by adults in this vicinity. This program provided the conveniences necessary for preserving larger amounts of surplus foods, making them available for later consumption.

Mrs. Best's helpful influence has been felt in the home, school, and community. She is a past president of the P.T.A. and supervises the school lunch program.

In Memoriam

THOMAS EARL HARRIS

1945--1964

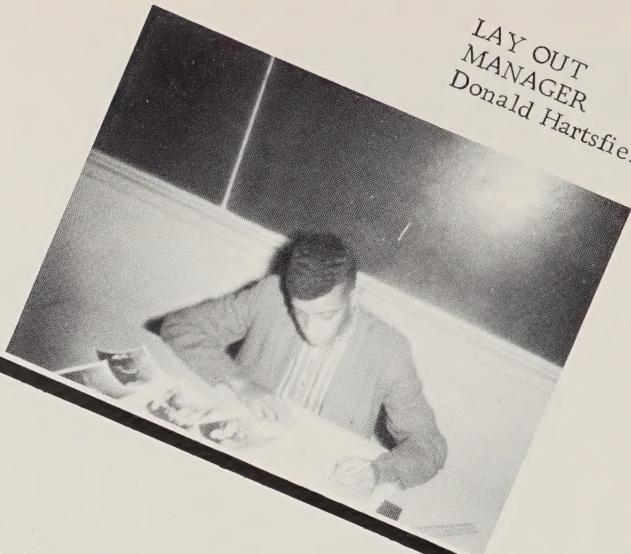

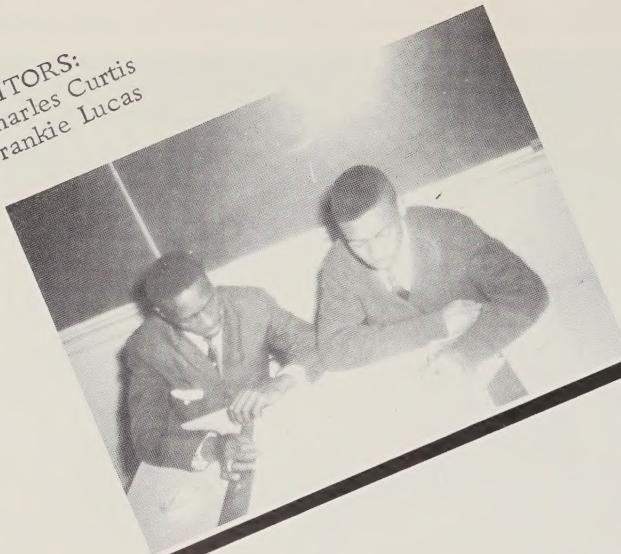

An intense love of the sports with an overwhelming desire to win and a constant interest in the scientific technicalities of physical development were the ingredients that inspired "Tom" as he out-jumped his opponents on the basketball court, backed up the linemen in football or hurled a game of base-ball.

Even though he was taken from this life at an age when most of us are preparing to live, "Tom" was ready for immortality in that he loved this life and lived it bravely, faithfully and as cheerfully as he could.

It has been said that death to a good man is but passing through a dark entry, out of one little dusky room of his Father's house into another that is fair and large, lightsome and glorious and divinely entertaining. So was it with "Tom."

FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN

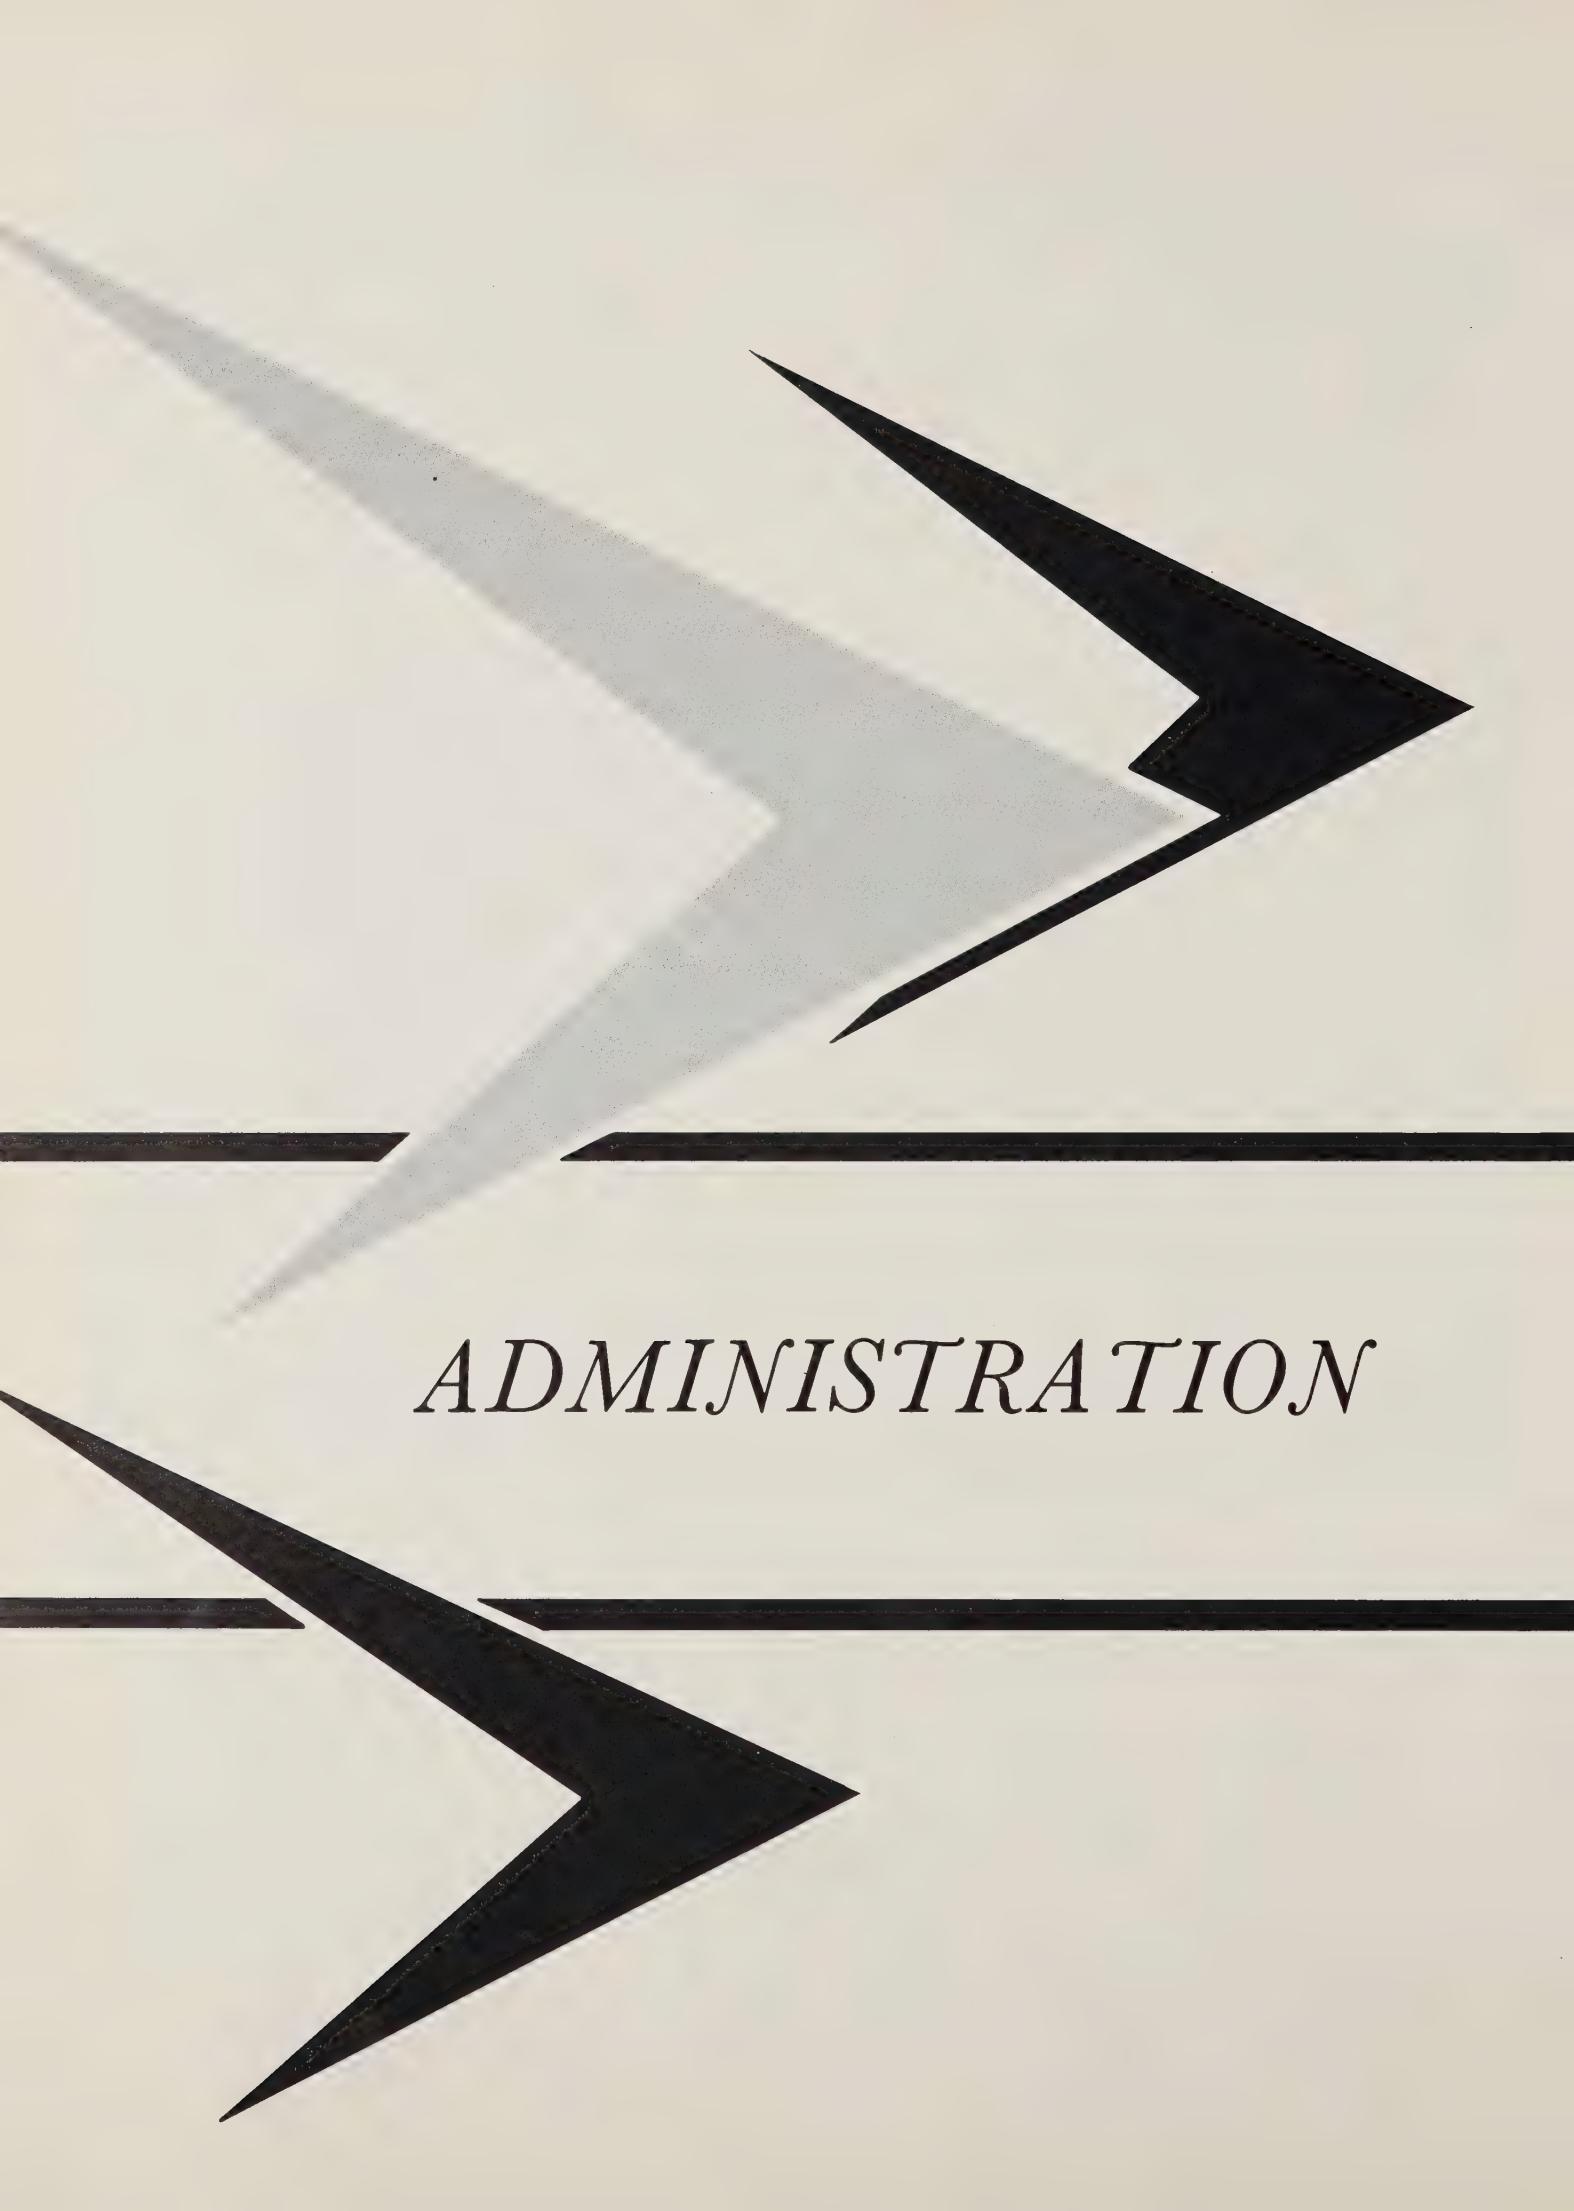

This is the second year of the publication of "THE LION." As graduating students of DuBois, it is indeed an honor and pleasure to be allowed to leave our mark for history by means of this publication.

For the class of 1965, this is the first step into a world of high specialization and rapid progress. The ideas, theories, and premises accumulated in twelve years of study here must now be used to help us achieve success and happiness in this rapidly changing world. It is impossible to cover all the events that happened around the school every day, but this is an attempt to show the major events and the general occurrences in pictures.

On the following pages will be scenes showing various activities, programs, and classes that have led to the desired end, GRADUATION.

It is our hope that this edition of "THE LION" will show each and everyone, who reads this publication, the culture, knowledge, and high ideals of our school. It is our hope, too, that our pupils, teachers, parents, and friends will enjoy this publication.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Aim High: The Pursuit of Excellence

My aim is to challenge you to get out of the large mass of "just average," into that small bracket of "excellence." My hope is that I might somehow be able to strengthen your determination to move up into the class of superior performers who are going to reap most of the honors, provide most of the leadership, occupy the best positions and make the most significant contribution to the wider community in the future.

You could and you should be in that top bracket if you decide to apply to your own future the point I am about to make.

EXCELLENCE usually is not, as some mistakenly believe, an endowment of nature. The born genius hardly counts in the number of people that get to the top, nor is excellence the result of terrific exertion. EXCELLENCE is almost always gained by a fairly small extra effort of which just about everybody is capable if only he had the will and tried it.

What is the difference between the average student and an Honor Roll student? Does the Honor Roll student know 100 times as much, or work a hundred times harder than the average? Let's not be ridiculous. The superiority of the Honor Roll student is a mere fraction above average -- maybe 20%. If the average student rates 70% to 75% -- 20% above that, or a rating of 90% to 95%, would certainly put him into the top bracket of his class.

Consider term-papers or projects. Does excellent work take 3 or 4 times as much effort as average? Certainly not. Often the difference is trifling, maybe checking the paper once more for errors, or re-writing a few pages for greater neatness or consulting a couple of more references.

Let me assure you that it is the same in the professional world, in business, in the arts and even in sports.

In one of the nation's most progressive companies all the employees are carefully rated for accuracy, promptness, getting along with others and so forth. Every worker has a test-score which is studied and considered seriously by the personnel manager. The average worker, in order to stay on the job, must perform at least 80% of standards. Those who get top-rating for promotions aren't 2 or 3 times better. They're just 5% to 10% above the average. Yet, because of this small difference in effort some of them will in time earn salaries 10 times as much as the average worker. One high priced executive with a reputation for hard work revealed the secret of his success:

You never see me watch the clock
When work is still undone,
Let other fellows quit at five,
I'll wait till 5:01.

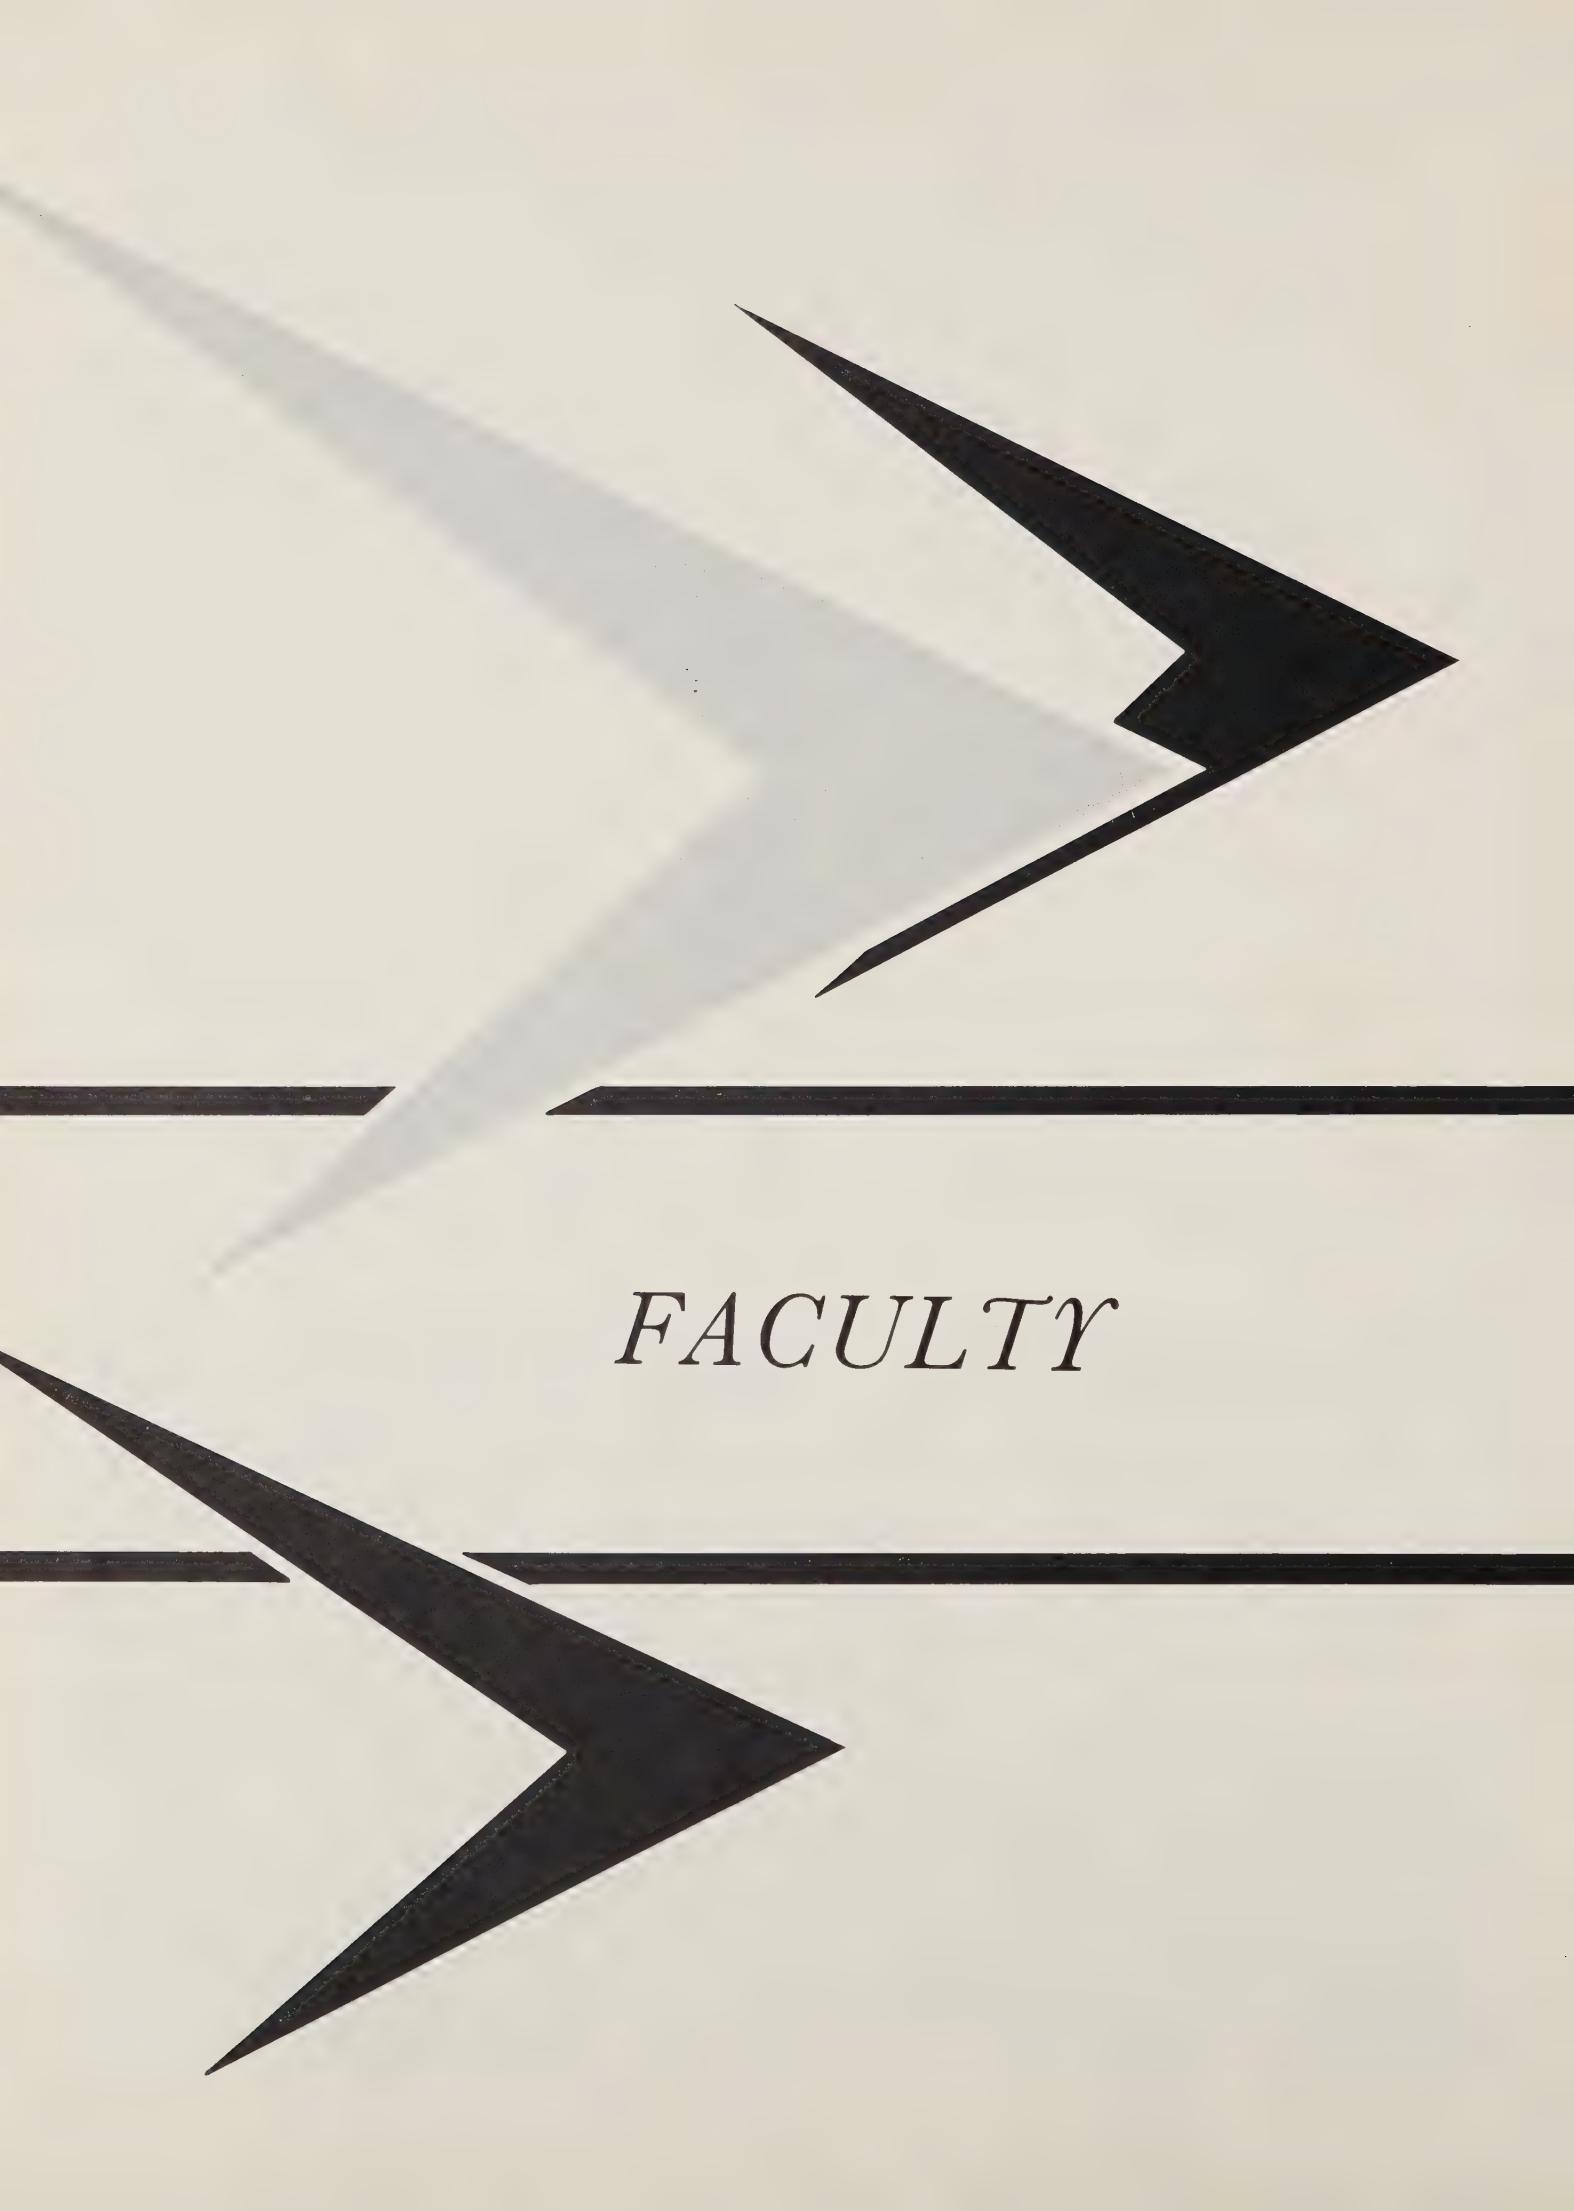

The best is not twice as good as the average, but a little better than good, yet the reward for it is disproportionately high. Indeed, I can say to you, the world vastly over-pays for a small measure of superiority.

Many of our young people are much too easily discouraged. They complain of bad luck or deep down in their hearts are afraid that "they just haven't got it." An African proverb says: Any fool can count the apples on a tree, but it takes a very wise man to tell you how many trees there are in an apple." Nobody knows the potential powers and abilities that are locked up inside of us. The magic key that opens up your full potential is persistent effort. Thomas Edison attributed his many inventions not to his genius but to his hard work. Once, the story goes, he assigned a special problem to one of his brightest assistants. The young man worked on it many weeks and finally came back to Mr. Edison completely discouraged and disgusted. He said, "Mr. Edison, I have made 500 experiments -- and found nothing."

"You are wrong, young man," says Mr. Edison. "You have found 500 ways that won't work. That too is important to know." The young assistant went back to work and soon made the invention he had hoped for.

When you strive for excellence, no effort is wasted. Even your set-backs and failures are stations on the road to success. They teach you what not to do and little by little you get closer to the right way, to the higher skill, to superior performance and to victory.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1965

By Danny Scarborough
Historian

The Class of 1965 would like to share with its fellow students and friends the events that have led to graduation from high school.

In the fall of 1961, seventy-two ordinary boys and girls, well dressed, reasonably good-looking, and badly frightened, entered the portals of DuBois High School. This ordinary group was divided into two sections, one under the guidance of Mrs. L. C. Latimer and the other under the guidance of Mr. G. D. Clements. Officers elected for the year in the 9-L section were President, Roger Shackleford; Vice-President, Annette Allen; Secretary, Carolyn Peppers; Treasurer, Mrs. Latimer; Host, Horace Alston; and Hostess, Rosa Parker. Officers of the 9-C section were President, Robert Harris; Vice-President, Joe Evans; Secretary, Cornelia Davis; Assistant-secretary, Barbara Mangum; Treasurer, Eleanor Gill; Assistant-Treasurer, Thomas Harris; Host, William Fleming; and Hostess, Sandra Mangum.

As Freshmen, we realized that teachers were not tyrants designed to combat rebellion but were sincere individuals with one prime objective -- to mold young minds to function to their greatest potential.

Although upperclassmen referred to us as still "wet behind the ears," members of our unit proved to be unusually outstanding in the major activities of the school. The skilled "pigskin" talents of Lorenzo Jackson, Roger Shackleford, Horace Alston, Bruce Lucas, Edward Williams, Thomas Curtis, William Fleming, Thomas Harris and John Alston led the "Lions" to many victories. The girls of our Freshman class may have been spectators during the football season, but they were entirely different during the basketball season. Freshmen who helped to develop the "Lionettes" were Leona Sneed, Annette Allen, Betty Hodge, Dianne Williams, Carol Stallings, Carolyn Peppers, De-lores Hartsfield, and Vivian "Snake-eye" Lucas.

We not only proved ourselves athletically but academically as well. Donald Hartsfield, Ernestine Pulley, Danny Scarborough, Roger Shackleford, Annette Allen, Rosa Parker and Dianne Williams were our honor students who went with the Honor Society on an excursion to Reedy Creek Park. Roger Shackleford and Danny Scarborough received Science Medals for their excellence in science.

Socially, we had the following young ladies to become members of the Zeta-Lites, an organization sponsored by the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority; Lynn Williams, Cornelia Davis, Vivian Lucas, Carol Stallings, Annette Allen, and Dianne Williams. These young ladies attended social activities at Shaw University and DuBois. As Zeta-Lites, these young ladies also attended a Zeta-Lite program which was entitled "Brace Yourself."

During our freshman year, our aptitudes, talents, deficiencies and capabilities were tested and found. We were then ready for the second year of our high school career.

As it was the custom, we were now known as Sophomores and remembering the scorn with which we had been regarded, we now adopted the same attitude toward the incoming Freshmen. We retained our two divisions with the following officers of sections 10-L and 10-C respectively: Presidents, Annette Allen and Frankie Lucas; Vice-presidents, Donald Hartsfield and Robert Harris; Secretaries, Delores Hartsfield and Barbara Mangum; Assistant-secretaries, Carol Stallings and Dorothy Lee; Treasurers, Cephus Dunston and Cassie Hockaday; Assistant-treasurers, Leona Sneed and Eleanor Gill; Hosts, Lorenzo Jackson and Richard Harris, and Hostesses, Bettye Hodge and Shirley Lucas. These officers served their positions faithfully and well.

We continued to excel in all phases of school life. Nine of our students remained members of the Honor Society. We presented a play entitled "Let Us Give Thanks." Annette Allen was runner-up to the Queen of May. Throughout the year, many of our students participated in the Choral Club, Dramatics Club, Band, Basketball, Football and Baseball and a host of other activities. Roger Shackleford and Danny Scarborough were recipients of biology medals.

With hard work and determination, we finally gained our next desired plateau, Junior Year.

What a year our Junior Year produced! We were still divided into two sections and well on the way to becoming the largest class to leave the portals of Du Bois; although, our number had decreased.

With the resignation of Mrs. L. C. Latimer, Mrs. T. H. Anders became advisor of the 11-A and 11-C was under the advisorship of Mr. Clements. The officers of 11-A and 11-C were as follows respectively: Presidents, Lorenzo Jackson and Frankie Lucas; Vice-presidents, Roger Shackleford and Robert Harris; Secretary, Carolyn Peppers and Cassie Hockaday; Assistant-secretaries, Ruby Davis and Cornelia Davis; Treasurers, Donald Hartsfield and Cora Young; Hosts, Arthur Jefferys and Bruce Lucas; and Hostesses, Rosa Parker and Sandra Mangum. Danny Scarborough and Robert Harris were elected as ideal citizens of the Junior Class.

As Juniors, we strived to maintain the academic standards of DuBois through our continued application to our studies. We adopted as our motto, "To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield." The Pink Carnation was selected as our class flower. Many of our students proved successful enough to make the General Honor Roll and the Language Arts Honor Roll.

Donald Hartsfield and Danny Scarborough received awards from the County for Winning first place in a County-wide Reading Poster Contest.

James Barbour received the Lincoln Theatre Award for showing the greatest improvement in Dramatics. James Barbour and Charles Curtis represented the school at the N. F. A. Workshop.

Frankie Lucas, Roger Shackleford, Thomas Harris, Wilbert Forte and Bruce Lucas received special recognition for their talented contribution which led to DuBois Basketball Team to the Wake-Johnston County Championship.

We were represented on the Cheering Squad by Elenor Kittrell, Margret Harris, Vivian Lucas, James Barbour, Delores Hartsfield, Danny Scarborough, Rosa Parker, and Virginia Daye.

Band members were Carolyn Peppers, Lynn Williams, James Merritt, Thomas Curtis, Wilbert Forte (bearer), Thomas Hartsfield (rifle bearer), Danny Scarborough (Drum Major), and Vivian Lucas.

High stepping majorettes were: Cornelia Davis, Delores Hartsfield, Elenor Kittrell, and Rosa Parker.

The Choral Club welcomed James Barbour, Lorenzo Jackson, Patricia Kearney, Horace Alston, Margaret Harris, Lawrence Jones, Eddie Kittrell, Mae Langley, Sarah Lee, Shirley Lucas, Gloria Mangum, Sandra Mangum, Charlie Perry, Donnie Person, and William Fleming.

Roger Shackleford, Danny Scarborough, Annette Allen, Carolyn Peppers, Rosa Parker and Dianne Williams were inducted into the Crown and Scepter Club.

The climax of our Junior year was the Junior-Senior Prom. In our estimation, this was the biggest and most elaborate evening ever held at DuBois. The theme of this event was "Tender Is The Night." Music was rendered by "The Micheal Keck Combo as the Juniors and their guests danced around a fountain of running water and beneath a revolving glass ball.

This was a year of hard work and the dreaded ordeal of examinations was passed without any casualties. The teachers had endeared themselves to the hearts of the class and we felt that we were now ready to assume new responsibilities.

We began our Senior year with gladness and a touch of sadness for we realized that our days were numbered at DuBois. Yes! this was the beginning of the end!

Our number had decreased, for various reasons, since our beginning in 1961, but the worst thing to happen to us was to lose Thomas Harris who was fatally injured during the summer. "Tom" had endeared himself to every member of the class and we were to miss him greatly as we continued our senior year.

As Seniors, we were diligent, responsible, first-rate, mature and so changed for the better that we were difficult to recognize. With Mr. Clements and Mrs. Anders as advisors, we moved toward graduation under the leadership of the following officers of 12-A and 12-C respectively: Presidents, Dianne Williams, and Cephus Dunston; Vice-Presidents, Arthur Jefferys and Frankie Lucas; Secretaries, Delores Hartsfield and Virginia Daye; Assistant-secretaries, Leona Sneed and Cornelia Davis; Treasurers, Audrey Williams and Robert Harris; Assistant-treasurers, Lorenzo Jackson and McArthur Woods; and Hostesses, Leona Perry and Carol Stallings.

We welcomed three transfer students, Enoch Hood, Sylvia Crudup, and Maurice Hinton to our ranks at the beginning of the year.

We continued to leave our mark on everything DuBois had to offer. Robert Harris and Richard Harris organized a Senior Patrol and Court in order to help maintain our democratic way of doing things at DuBois.

Enoch Hood, James Sanford, Nevador Evans, Eddie Kittrell, Thomas Curtis, William Fleming, Frankie Lucas, Percy Walker, Roger Shackleford, Thomas Hartsfield, Richard Harris, Edward Williams, Lorenzo Jackson, Arthur Jefferys, Wilbert Forte, and Johnny Mangum aided the football team in rolling up some impressive scores against their most formidable opponents. Annette Allen was crowned Miss Homecoming during half-time activities of the football homecoming game. Cephus Dunston was her escort. Lynn Williams was runner-up for Debutante-of-the-Year. At the Debutante Ball, Roger Shackleford served as narrator.

A number of seniors including Leona Sneed, Bettye Hodge, Annette Allen, Leonia Perry, Mae Langley, Patricia Kearney, William Fleming, Donnie Person, James Barbour and Sylvia Crudup participated in the Choral Club's Christmas Pageant. Danny Scarborough was narrator.

The names of Shackleford, Lucas and Forte continued to ring during the basketball season.

Seniors taking the Scholastic Achievement Test were Sylvia Crudup, Rosa Parker, Donald Hartsfield, Nevador Evans, Enoch Hood, Roger Shackleford, Danny Scarborough, Annette Allen, Thomas Curtis, Lorenzo Jackson, Dianne Williams, Ernestine Pulley, and Frankie Lucas.

Sylvia Crudup was a contestant in the Miss Jabberwock contest sponsored by the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Sylvia Crudup and Danny Scarborough entered the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity Essay Contest and Roger Shackleford attended a dinner sponsored by the Phi Beta Kappa Scholastic Society.

With graduation rapidly approaching, we can boast of the largest class ever to leave DuBois, not only in size, but in potentialities. Potentialities that will lead each of us to the ultimate goal of success. As we prepare to leave these portals, we will remember "Culture is for service; knowledge, for power."

"You have been our guiding light . . . hail to thee DuBois."

Class Song
AS SENIORS
(Tune: EXODUS)

by Danny L. Scarborough

As seniors, DuBois, We say farewell;
Though in Parting there is sorrow,
We have hopes for a new tomorrow.
As seniors, DuBois, We say farewell.

As students, DuBois, you taught us to strive to seek and to find;
But not to yield DuBois, for there's so little time.
As students, DuBois, We say farewell.

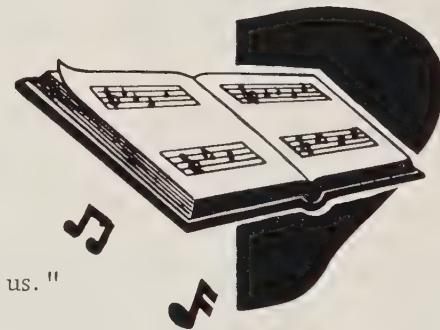

As students, we'll search every inch of ground.
Somewhere, we'll find a golden crown.
We can truly reach for heights that others may not reach,
With your guidance and knowledge to teach.

As students, DuBois, you prepared us well,
With this foundation we can't fail.
We now can move along.
Wisdom will make us strong.
Hail to thee DuBois High School, Hail to thee.

"Not what we could do for you, but what you could do for us."
This was all you asked of us as students,
Forever we'll remain true.

Now is the hour;
Our day of reckoning is here.
As students, DuBois, we've remain dear;
We know no boundaries, neither do we know limits.
To you, DuBois, Au Revoir.

As Seniors, We give special thanks;
To teachers who've improved our ranks.
We can face the darkest night,
Knowledge is our source of light,
And the glow it gives can truly light the world.
Farewell DuBois High School, now our tears, our tears
Have begun to flow.
God grant us strength,
For we must go.

ON OUR DEPARTURE
1965 Class Poem

by Cephus Dunston

Four years of joy and inspiration,
Four years of toil for fellowman,
Four years of work and determination
Have brought out the best in this short span.

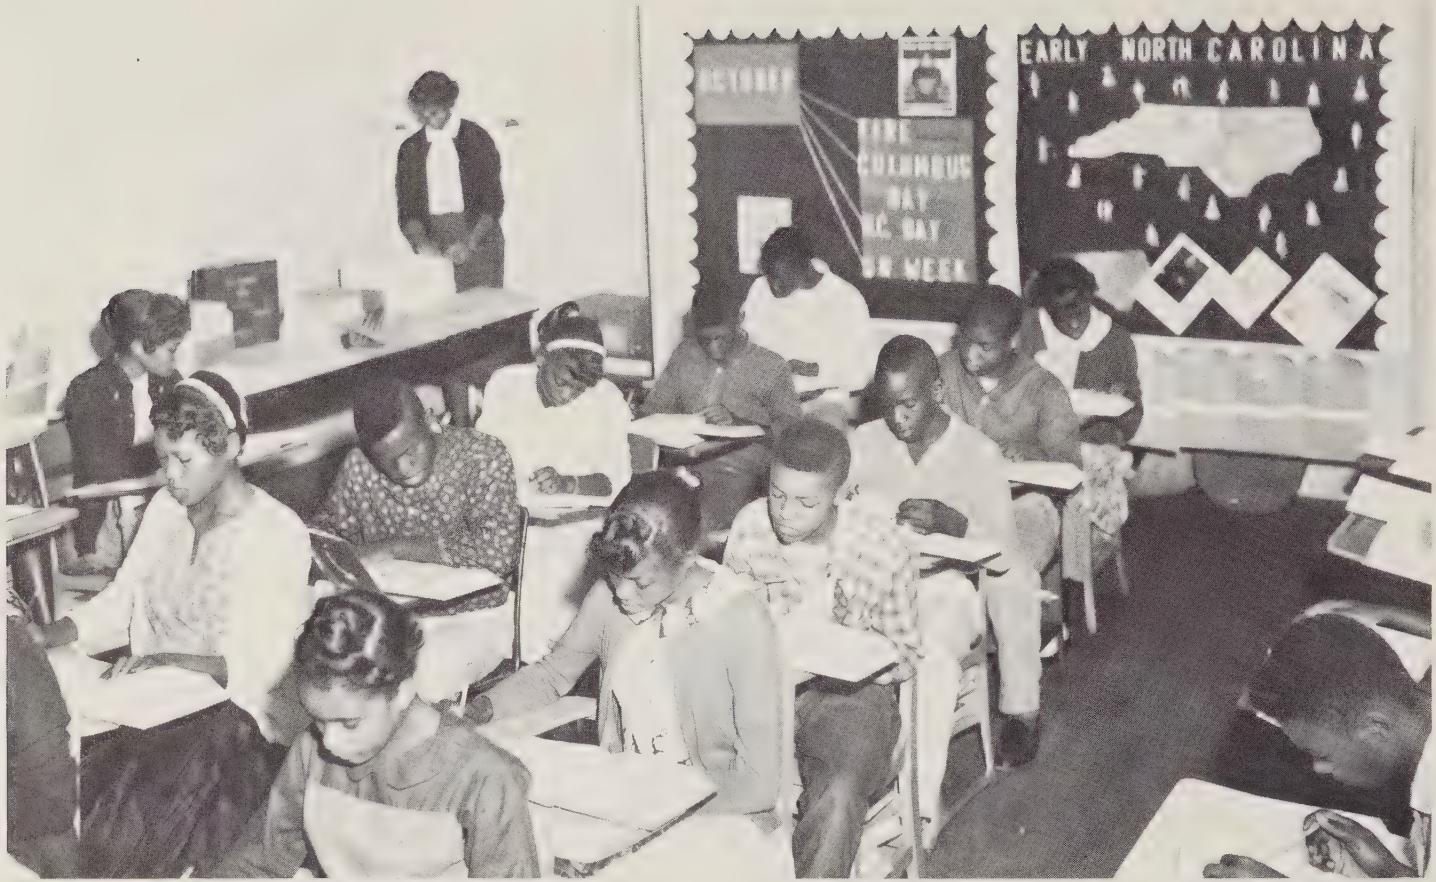

Our years of preparation are behind;
In all our requirements, we have done our best
Loyalty to thee DuBois will be thine,
As we start each one upon his quest.

It is here we received a vision of the future;
Here was manifested the part each must play.
By courage and understanding this we insure,
For through culture and knowledge is the way.

Now we are gathered at the parting stage,
As we meet the last time within these halls.
"Farewell" -- we are about to depart on our crusade;
But never will we forget these hallowed walls.

Dear principal, teachers and parents too,
WE'll meet our new life with a will that is steady.
With love and patience, you have given us the cue,
And you, Alma Mater, you have made us ready.

REMINISCING ABOUT THE GOOD OLE DAYS IN BUSINESS EDUCATION

(A chit-chat with an Alumnus)

Good morning. Ummm . . . I see you have a very spacious typing room! And look at the typewriters! How many do you have in here? Thirty! How time and circumstances do change! Why, I remember the first year you came, my senior year, the typing classes were taught in the agriculture classroom . . . there were 8 or 9 typewriters? Yes, eight standard and one "long" carriage Underwood. I think I liked that old Royal the best. My, was that machine noisy! Wonder what ever happened to the "ancient" L. C. Smith that we used! It must have been the first magic margin machine invented! We'd set the left margin, say at 20, and type a line, but when we were ready to return the carriage, we found the margin had drifted down the carriage as we typed!

That year when it started turning cold and the heating system to serve the agriculture and new junior high buildings hadn't been completed . . . those finger gymnastic drills weren't enough to warm those cold fingers! We finally moved a few typewriters back in the shop where there was still a coal stove. NOTHING seemed to dampen our enthusiasm to learn to type!

Students were willing to make tremendous sacrifices in those days. Class enrollment had to be limited to 18 students so that they could type in two shifts . . . something like the two-platoon system. What is the fee now? Only $2.50? That points up another sacrifice -- we paid $18. That was necessary because additional machines were purchased through typing fees. It must have been exciting when the department purchased 5 new typewriters -- one an electric.

Actually, when we compare the early days of business training here with those of today, one would choose today's. However, at that time of limited facilities, the students were able to achieve adequate skill and competence in typing and shorthand when they applied themselves. If an individual is determined to achieve, he'll apply himself conscientiously and the chances for his success are all in his favor. With more and better local job opportunities materializing, the desire to achieve in the skill subjects is accelerated.

I have enjoyed reminiscing about the "good ole days." I'm so proud to see the progress that has been made in this relatively short period of time. Have you ever checked the records to see how many students you have trained in at least one year of typing? No? It would make quite a list!

Oops! the bell! The start of a new day -- of school and opportunity. I'll make it a point to visit my Alma Mater and your department on my next trip home.

Good-bye.

THE RHYTHM BAND

Sponsor Miss G. V. Rogers
Accompanist Mrs. H. C. Reece

The Rhythm and Flute Bands have been organized activities in the school for the past twelve years. They have presented many programs and have taken active parts in various school activities. These two bands are outgrowths of the primary and intermediate classes who have special interest in music.

The Rhythm Band is made up of pupils from grades one through three. The Flute Band has pupils from grades four through six.

These pupils develop in rhythms and fundamentals of music. They are potential members of the High School Band.

THE GOLDEN LIONS

Our 1964-65 basketball team, who are confidentially referred to as the "Golden Lions" by Coach Clements, got off to a mediocre start, but by mid-season were on their way to another successful basketball campaign.

The "Lions," defending champions of the Wake-Johnston Conference, had but two starters back from the 63-64 season; but these two boys, Frankie Lucas and Richard Harris were rich in talent. They formed the nucleus, along with some other talented J. V. and second string varsity boys of last year, to create a free-wheeling, fast breaking offensive-minded team.

We anticipate another championship trophy for our trophy showcase.

CAFETERIA

The school lunch program is very vital to the health of the school family. Well planned and balanced meals are served daily at three lunch periods. Here pupils learn to enjoy meals with school and classmates.

The cafeteria is an ideal place for the students to learn and practice good eating habits and good table manners. (Pictured above are the very busy cafeteria workers: Mrs. Virginia Lucas, Mrs. Ervin Jeffereys, Mrs. Ellen Alston, and Mrs. Mary Crenshaw.)

The 1964 HARVEST BALL depicted the theme: "A FALL FIESTA IN TINTS OF AUTUMN." The tints of autumn, a mighty flower garden, blossom under the spell of the enchanter, JACK FROST.

JACK FROST is King until FROSTY, THE SNOW MAN, comes upon the scene and with his wintry winds and icy fingers drapes all of nature in somber brown and sparkling white.
